

Angelic Chess

by David Michael

The Vision

In the late night of the 23 of November 2018, I was awakened and was shown a chessboard but it was not like any other chessboard. It was not normal chess with the regular chess figures of the king, queen, bishops, knights and other players. On this chessboard, the figures were all archangels at war. The good or holy archangels (white) were at war with the evil archangels (black). I continued to watch to more clearly identify the players on this board and as I looked, the 7 archangels as described in the Book of Enoch appeared as the white players across one end of this board from side to side. From this I understood that the dimensions of this angelic chessboard was 7 by 7 squares with 49 areas or places where a battle may occur. The normal chessboard is 8 by 8 squares with 64 places of battle.

The Seven Archangels

The 7 archangels from the book of Enoch, chapter 20, include the following.

1. Michael (wind)
2. Gabriel (water)
3. Uriel (fire)
4. Raphael (earth)
5. Serakiel
6. Raguel
7. Remiel

I continued to watch and as I observed the same kind of players were represented on the dark side of the board leading the host of fallen angels who oppose the work of YHWH day and night and now serve under the command of Lucifer. I could not identify who they were.

This dark hierarchy is where I lack understanding. I had prayed to YHWH a few months back for the need to better understand how the battles in the heavenlies are set in motion and how one force is enabled to be overcome by the other. Why didn't YHWH just wipe out all of the dark forces and be done with it all? I did realize this vision was an attempt by YHWH to give me this understanding in providing it to me as a chess game of good and evil players that have rules of engagement that are adhered to religiously.

Three-Level Chess Board

As I watched, the board then expanded vertically into a three-level board with the dark players being played at the bottom of the stack as the underworld archangel armies. The middle level was seen to be a normal chessboard with the normal players less one and this was the human playing board. The queen was missing with the king being given the same move capabilities as the queen in chess. I guess one could also say the king was dumped and the queen was saved but in capturing the queen, one could now win the game as if it were the king. It is best to say they were merged into single male-female royal player that could be either male or female. This seemed OK to me since the spiritual wars we fight and the attending angels are not defined or identified normally as having gender. Then the top 3rd level was where the white archangels were played.

Battle for Souls of Mankind

I realized that the war was a battle over who will claim the souls of mankind and all of creation with the dark influence attacking mankind from below as representing the underworld with the light influence seeking to save mankind from enslavement fighting from above in the heavens. I further understood that the positioning of the right hierarchical or empowered archangel player below and/or above the middle level of mankind determined the outcome of a battle and who would have claim upon that human soul piece being played in that square of the board.

I continued to watch the game. When the white human souls where “captured” they became the servants of the dark side. They could also be converted from the dark side to become the servants of light. When the whole human board was either all dark or white human players, the game was over and the side with the remaining players won. There was also a way players they could be martyred but not sure how this works... yet. The archangels and their knights stayed in play throughout the game.

The strategy was to then move the most powerful archangels available and its knight-protectors into position directly above or below or around encircling the human entity to assure victory. The dark angels and light angels could not inhabit the same vertical space at the same time. The human players were enslaved to serve the evil angels but could be redeemed back into the light given the right circumstances.

I do not know the full details of the rules of this angelic chess game but I am led to understand that it directly mirrors what is actually happening in the world, under the world and in the heavens above even while you are reading this vision. As I better understand the angelic chess rules, I will better understand how the real spiritual warfare is happening in the world today.

Seven Elements and Archangels

In past encounters, I have been visited by the archangels Michael and Uriel. Michael described himself as being the lord (or captain) of the forces of the winds whereas Uriel presented himself to me as the lord of fire and he was seen as an angel on fire in my vision. I have somewhat blindly ascribed the powers of water to Raphael and the powers of earth to Gabriel but time will tell whether this is true or not. I am not sure about the elemental powers held by Serakiel, Raguel and Remiel.

Occult theology adds to the normal the list of the four forces of earth(rock), wind, fire and water with the secondary life forces (in bridging matter and energy) of plants, animals and spirits or disembodied souls. Perhaps a further study of Enoch and much more prayer will give indication of who is aligned with what force in nature and how they can be empowered or have their power reduced as a result of human intervention. The seven forces found in nature are as follows.

Primary Forces

1. Earth (rock)
2. Wind
3. Fire
4. Water

Secondary Forces

5. Plants
6. Animals
7. Spirits (includes mankind)

At this time, I do not know nature's hierarchy of these 7 elemental forces as reflected in each of the archangels. As one example that makes this determination extremely complicated if not impossible, enough fire can dispel (evaporate) water but if the water is great enough in volume (strength), it can put out a fire.

Seven Evil Archangels

It follows from this vision that for each of the 7 archangels of YHWH, there is a corresponding 7 evil angels or archangels in play serving Lucifer in his great rebellion. The other players as pawns in a normal chess game are warrior angels in the service of the archangels... kind of like a knight-protector in service to an archangel lord. In some way the rules allow them to follow close beside the archangel player as it moves about the board to block interference and provide protection to the archangel.

My first thoughts on the evil archangel list after being fully awake was in considering the 20 angels who were the leaders of 200 angels who had fallen during the time of Enoch. They took women as wives, had Nephilim children and were consequently judged by YHWH for this rebellion and destined for eternal damnation and fire. These fallen angels are not described by Enoch as being associated with the elements of nature but in having very earthly skills such a healing, astrology, warfare, weapons, etc. Some of these 20 leaders were jailed in the Abyss in the Euphrates during the time of the great flood with the prophecy they would be released in the end times for a short time.

I have been shown where the Abyss is located in the Persian Gulf that used to be the final section of the Euphrates river about 12,000 years ago. If from this group of angels the 7 Luciferian archangels were chosen, this would make sense as they are fully invested in the destruction and enslavement of mankind.

Word of God Empowers

Somehow the strength of these archangels are all influenced by the application of the Word of God embodied in YShua that empowers and sustains all the forces of nature. I need to know how they function within the laws that were set in motion at the time of creation. The enabling effect or power of the Word of God is determined by the faith of the human players in this celestial game. Some will argue the strength of the force of light is increased resulting from the fervent prayers and personal sacrifice of a faithful servant of YHWH whereas the force of darkness is increased though a faith in ritual satanic sacrifices by the followers of Lucifer. It says in the book of Revelation, "They overcame Satan (the Antichrist) by the Blood of the Lamb and the Word of their Testimony and did not shrink from death." How this is played in the Angelic Chess game is yet to be fully understood.

For me, this is a beginning in better understanding the mystery behind the wars being fought among the archangels and how human intervention in faith will determine the outcome at the end of time. It also suggests humans have a much more critical role in these end times in confronting the Antichrist regime at least up to the middle of the 7 year Tribulation period as the 4 horsemen of the Apocalypse rise to power and open the way for the Abomination of Desolation to appear as Satan incarnate in the middle of the 7 year period.

Angelic Chess is played both horizontally and vertically at the same time.
